
Formiche

SMALL TABLES

Piero Lissoni

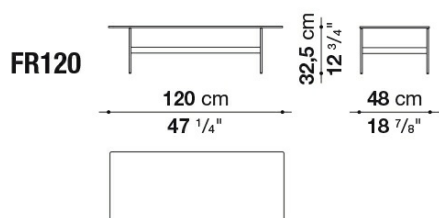

Description

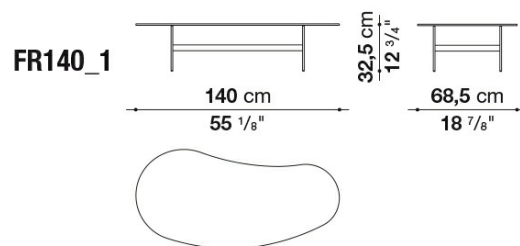

Lightness and simplicity distinguish Formiche (Ants in English) complements. The slender support FRAME (making reference to the name), with its shape and finish, picks up the theme of the feet in the sofa system. The rounded support of pewter painted steel is connected by crosspiece to support the tops in different shapes, round, oval, or “kidney bean.” Various shapes and heights make it possible to compose different support systems. The tops themselves, made of transparent extra light glass, brushed light oak, titanium finish metal, or porcelain stoneware, Calacatta white or stone grey stone, have a fine thickness of 8 mm.
